

Qualification & Certification

Certifications & Authorized Reseller

SYNAP is highly qualified to handle all your technology needs no matter how large or small. Our staff is highly trained and certified in providing your company with the latest in technology solutions.

We know that certifications are not enough to differentiate one company from another; that's why we developed our own in-house training & certification program to train our staff beyond what the books says you should do. Experience is our most highly honored certification.
